HEAVEN BOUND?

Read the three statements below. Then write your own statement to explain why you are sure that you are Heaven bound.

Ahmed (a Muslim friend): “No one can know with certainty who will go to Heaven and Hell. All I can do is have faith in the revelations that Allah sent through his prophets and try my best to live according to those revelations. I hope I make it.”

Nadine (a spiritualist friend): “When we die, we enter the spirit world. In that world we will go through a process of maturing and going from one plane of existence to another. I communicate with my spirit guide day by day to learn more about life on the other side.”

Alex (a pragmatic atheist friend): “There is no afterlife. Salvation is just avoiding as much pain and gaining as much pleasure in this world by living sensibly with kindness to others.”

Write your statement for knowing that you are Heaven bound and what you would share with the above three friends.

FROM EARLY MORNING TO THE LATE SHOW

Host: Peter, we are happy to have you on the program today. We have just read your letter to believers around the world, and we wanted to discuss it.

Peter: Happy to be here. It's a privilege talk about what really matters.

H: It seems your major theme is how the death of your rabbi Jesus was really a victory.

P: That is not quite true. Jesus died on the cross. But the victory came when we discovered on the third day that he had risen.

H: Well, Peter, in order to help you explain what happened on that day, we have two more guests. Let's welcome Mary Magdalene and John, son of Zebedee. [Audience applause]

P: So glad you two have joined me. If you remember, we did not understand what had happened when we first saw the empty tomb.

Mary Magdalene: True. I arrived at the grave just before dawn, only to find that it had been unsealed and was empty.

John: That is when you ran to Peter and me. I remember how upset you were. It was bad enough that Jesus was crucified. But had someone added insult to injury by stealing his body?

P: True. So, John, you and I ran to investigate. You arrived first, as I recall.

J: Yes. I looked in and saw that the tomb was empty and the grave clothes were lying there. Then you arrived and barged right into the tomb!

P: Ha, ha! I have always been the impulsive type. Inside, I noticed something strange. The head covering had been neatly folded and placed to the side.

J: That made me think that maybe something happened that was more than we understood at the time.

MM: I came to Peter and John for answers, but they were as confused as I was! They finally went back home while I remained at the grave.

P: It took us a while to understand what had happened. Jesus appeared to us time and time again over the next forty days.

H: Forty days? So you had lots of time to see him alive again.

J: Yes, we did. Time and time again he demonstrated that he was alive. He explained the Scriptures that predicted that he would be raised from the dead.

H: So, Peter. In your letter, you explain what you learned?

P: Exactly! What at first seemed to be a tragedy turned out to be the greatest event in history! Because Jesus was raised, we will be raised. We need not fear death because he conquered it for us.

H: Thank you for joining us. We encourage our viewers to read your letter, Peter.

P, MM, J: Thanks for having us!

A SERVANT OF GOD WITH FLAWS

Everyone knows a servant of God with flaws. Some flaws are covert—internal matters of belief and attitude. Others are overt—matters of obedience. Jonah was one such servant. We might say that the following list includes some of the flaws of Jonah.

- _____ Saying “no” to God’s direct command
- _____ Indifference to the well-being of others
- _____ Considering God to be local and provincial
- _____ Encouraging others to do what they considered wrong to solve his problem

Place a checkmark by one or two flaws in the list that you share with Jonah. Pray throughout the week that God will help you deal with those flaws.

A COMMON CHRISTIAN RESOLUTION

Few resolutions are repeated more often among Christians than this: “I resolve to pray more, in all circumstances.” Note the following phrases, prayer ideas, from Jonah’s prayer in chapter 2, and identify occasions from your own life experience that have or could elicit such a thought.

“Your salvation, O God, is my delight” (v. 9).
